HONOR BADGES YOURS TO BUY.

Tag Day Invitations Issue for Charity Rally.

Compelling Is the Call for Dimes for Needy.

Girls Will Help in Charge of Beauty Brigade.

Don't make the mistake of coming downtown today without plenty of silver, if you have it!
Today the Associated Charities of Los Angeles will float 300,000 little tags through the city. It is the association's annual Tag Day, something that means bread in the mouths of the hungry ones and clothes to cover the little naked backs and legs of the poor youngsters. It means relief to broken-down men and women, cheer to the widowed mother, and happiness to the maimed or injured man whose ability to earn subsistence has been taken from him by accident, leaving him perhaps with several children to support. Those are just a few of the things that Tag Day represents. It is perhaps the worthiest of all worthy benevolent institutions. The Associated Charities will have headquarters on the ground floor of the Chamber of Commerce building, where President Frank and Secretary Sewell with a corps of assistants will be in charge throughout the day.
They want to secure $20,000. This is to be used toward the uplifting of the destitute during the year. If $15,000 is raised, then $500 will go in a lump sum to the McKinley Boys' Home and a like amount will go to the Los Angeles Orphan's Home. If $17,000 is raised, then $1000 will go to each of these institutions.
And so it goes—so much to institutions that need the money, so much to be used in helping needy mothers and fathers and destitute little children. Every penny goes to some good cause. Every penny lightens some little dot of misery in this old world, where many are the hardships and stony the roads for some. Let those who have been a little more fortunate give so that their hearts may be made better and their minds cleaner simply through the joy of giving.
It is a day to make every one glad. Those who have withheld charity for these many months because their mite seemed too small may give now. Ten cents doesn't mean much, but every one counts. Don't fail to be one of those carrying tags; don't fail, if you can afford to be one of those carrying many tags. Don't hang back to be

TEA CULTURE IN CITY.

Sixth Ward Central Improvement Association to Conduct Experiments With Expert's Aid.
The Sixth Ward Central Improvement Association is to conduct experiments in tea growing, with the aid of an expert from Ceylon, who believes that the perfect climate of Los Angeles will insure success.
Secretary Gibbon of the Association has written to Senator Flint, asking him to use his influence with the Agricultural Department to procure some tea seed and plants. The department has long been trying to introduce tea culture in this country and is now operating an experimental farm.

ARMENIANS IN "LAST DITCH."

THEIR COUNTRYMEN HERE ASK FOR CONTRIBUTIONS.

Mass Meeting Held to Devise Ways of Aiding Suffering People Who Have Been Driven from Their Homes by Turkish Soldiers—Appeal to the Public.

Armenians living in Los Angeles held a mass meeting night before last to devise ways for aiding their suffering brethren in Turkey.
A committee, composed of M. G. Ferrahian, H. Deeran and V. Victor, was appointed to interest citizens in the relief plan.
"Our people are suffering from hunger and lack of shelter," said Ferrahian last night. "We want to send clothing, provisions and tents. Our means are limited, and none of us is rich. We realize the generous hearts of the Americans, and desire to make an appeal for help."
"It is a worthy cause. Newspaper reports do not begin to tell the story of outrage, suffering and famine. Our people are without homes or means of support. Turkish soldiers have driven them from their villages, and in many cases have killed the able-bodied."

he said yesterday. "I would rather be anything in the world than a politician, and yet my friends all call me that. I do not know what a politician is, but I have read in the papers that he is a very bad man. I have never done anything wrong in my life, and it hurts me to think that my friends should try to ruin me by calling me such a bad name."

last Sunday, had been fixed for the wedding. He complains with all the ample language of legal documents of this tenor that the refusal of Miss Dotson to become Mrs. Mooney has caused him great humiliation, mental anguish, and distress, which suffering is held to entitle the plaintiff to damages. "He prayed for."
Dotson tried hard to frown

The decision was made in the case of the city of Santa Monica versus John C. Bailey. It was handed down by Justice Angelotti and concurred in by Justices Shaw, Sloss, Henshaw, Melvin and Lorigan.
Three years ago Bailey, a San Pedro man, who was then master of the sardine launch Alpha, was arrested at Santa Monica and fined $25 for violation of the ordinance that makes it unlawful for any person to set, draw, or use any fishing net or seine in the Pacific Ocean within 1000 feet from any wharf, dock or pier.
The case was taken to the Superior Court, where a writ of habeas corpus was denied. The launch captain then went before the Supreme Court.
Justice Angelotti states it is manifest from the terms of the ordinance that it was in no sense designed for the protection and preservation of fish for the benefit of the people of the State. The decision continues:
"It was clearly the sole object of the ordinance to protect and ad-

Viewed by Mikado's Sea Fighters.
Cheotaw Indian Interesting Visitor.
Wears Gay Uniform; Is Preacher in "Church of Living God."
The Chamber of Commerce and the Coronel collection have had a large number of very interesting visitors this week. Tuesday and Wednesday the warrant officers and several hundred of the sailors from the Japanese war vessels inspected the display in the exhibit hall.
The objects that claimed their attention most were the relief maps of California and Los Angeles and the first piece of ordnance brought to California in 1782, by the Franciscan fathers. The only semblance of a smile that appeared on their faces was evoked by the sight of the little cannon, brought as a weapon of defense against the Indians.
A visitor yesterday was George M.
Dallas, a Choctaw Indian from Oklahoma. He is one of three brothers who were born in Illinois and who were taken from their people by white men to be educated when they were small boys. They were christened James K. Polk and George M.
Dallas, after the then Presidential candidates, and Augustus Cicero Mc-Donnell.
George was born in 1843. When the Civil War broke out he was on his way down the Mississippi River to be placed in a school at Vicksburg. Instead of going to school, he enlisted in the Eighty-third Ohio and served under Grant. Later he was in the navy and his discharge papers describe him as a "first class boy, U.S.S.
Clara. Dobson, Little Rebel and Natchez." He wears on his breast a medal, inscribed "U. S. Gunboat Nymph, U. S. Navy."
George's slight figure was conspicuous in a picturesque uniform—a jacket heavily embroidered with beads and a brown silk shirt, trimmed with a design in braid and velvet. His hat was adorned with a band of red feathers and a small American flag.
He carries a certificate as a preacher in the "Church of the Living God" and he is a most enthusiastic, emotional and fluent expounder of the scriptures.
Today George will visit comrades at the Soldiers' Home.

President of Large Insurance Company Which Purposes Loans Here
Meets Business Men.
Benjamin E. Page entertained at luncheon yesterday at the California Club George C. Markham, president of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. This company has assets of about $25,000,000, and is one of the largest life insurance companies in the country. Mr. Markham has come to Los Angeles to look over the city and determine whether the corporation should lend a portion of its funds here.
It has never made any loans in California, but it is now the intention to make conservative real estate loans on first-class Los Angeles business property. In a short address to those present, Mr. Markham stated this as his intention, and told something about the growth and policies of his company.
The luncheon was given that he might meet a few of the leading business men of the city. Those present besides the guest of honor and host were: Gen. M. H. Sherman, Harry Chandler, W. H. Holliday, W. M. Garland, Hon. R. F. Waters, J. A. Graves, J. J. Byrne, ex-Judge John D. Bicknell,
ex-Gov. H. H. Markham, Mark G.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.
Micha Elman will make his farewell appearance for this year in Los Angeles this afternoon, in Simpson Auditorium. His programme is a very fine one, including the Lalo Symphony Espagnole, the Handel Sonata in E Major, a Beethoven Minuet, the "Duet" for "Deutscher Tanz," a Gosses Gavotte, the Schubert-Wilhelm "Ave Maria," and the Sa-rasate "Rasque Caprice."
Immediately after the concert El-man will take the Owl for San Francisco, and on Sunday afternoon will play as soloist with the Russian Symphony Orchestra at the Garrick Theater. Among other selections he will give a Tchaikowsky concerto.
The Garnet Club kept open house
during the early part of last evening.
Invited guests to the dinner were Micha Elman and his retinue, Nat
Goodwin and Mrs. Robley D.
Evans. Nat Goodwin failed to arrive, and Rear-Admiral Evans, who had a lecture engagement in the evening, sent a note of regret.
There were present, however, a large and enthusiastic Garnet following, and Micha Elman, his father, his accompanist, and his manager, Henry Wolfson.
The members of the Murray and Mack company will move into their

Silk Waists at $5.00
Are Really Good Values at $8.00
Nothing wrong with these waists, except that they have dwindled down to a few of a size or color; so we take stern measures with them:
Plain tailored styles of taffetas and mesalines; fancy waists, trimmed with soutache braid, and made with white or cream face yokes; long sleeves, with pointed cuffs; high pointed collars; in white, navy, mint green, taupe, fancy checks, drift blue and catwabs. Included are a few colored net waists, too; all sizes somewhere or other; choose at $5.00

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

I have received numerous inquiries from women who live in the country as to some method by which they could make a vote. In the current number of Harper's Bazaar there is an interesting account of two sisters so situated who hit on a clever scheme. It happened that the farmhouse where they lived was on a country road which was much frequented by automobiles and they were located five miles away from any town. It happened one day that an automobile broke down near the farmhouse and the women of the party asked the privilege of sitting on the wide, cool veranda while repairs were being made. They also asked if they might get a glass of milk, which request was granted, and some hot gingerbread, which happened to be just out of the oven, was added to the appetizing little lunch. So much was this appreciated and so liberally paid for, that the sisters had an inspiration and the result was that the old farmhouse, its verandas and pleasant yard, were fitted up for a tea-house, where motor cars might find rest and refreshment. The detailed account of how everything was utilized makes an interesting and suggestive story. Perhaps some women in this vicinity might go and do likewise. There is no part of the country where motoring is more popular than right here in Southern California. In order to make the venture successful, one must pay careful attention to details and endeavor to introduce some pleasant novelty, if possible, that shall stamp the place as original and a little out of the ordinary.

At the Bouquet.
The latest tribute to the ridiculous hats of the season is the account I read the other day in the Washington Post of a horse who ate the artificial peaches off the hat of a woman who was so earnestly engaged in conversation with a friend standing near the curb where the horse was hitched that she did not notice his dangerous proximity till she felt a tug at her hat, which caused her to turn round. With a shriek she made a hasty retreat, leaving the horse in possession of the two peaches he had nibbled.

A Milk Bath.
Do you know that careful French women, after washing their hands, always rinse them in milk, into which has been put a few drops of essence of violet which is strong and of a bluish tinge? This, it is said, makes the handkerchiefs the pure white color that is so necessary. They are taken out of the milk bath and partially dried in a clean towel and at once ironed. Milk starch is used, for the little piece of handkerchief comes from her hands as if fresh from the shelves of a shop, and with the delicate fragrance of having lain in a violet sachet.

Shadow Without Substance.
Speaking of perfumes, the French are past masters in the combining of dainty and pleasing odors. Instead of using a scent directly on the handkerchief, they use a tiny bag of perfume bran into the bath or pour a few drops of fragrant toilet water into it. Perfumed powders and sachets are placed in ornamental forms in boxes and bureau drawers or the padded shoulder holds by which garments are suspended. This imparts a subtle and insidious odor without leaving a trail of perfume behind. And this reminds me, I read in an exchange from the pen of a writer who usually knows what she is talking about, that there is a little fad going the rounds this spring which may be the forerunner of that day to come when perfume is permitted for the stronger sex. Some men, she says, have taken up the fashion of carrying about with them in some form or other a bit of sandal wood for luck, they claim. But incidentally, a sandalwood box, even for matches, or even a pen-knife with a sandalwood handle, imparts a certain aromatic odor to man's belongings. Bits of it dropped here and there about the bureau drawers or in the wardrobe answer the same purpose.

For the June Bride.
I noticed yesterday a window downtown filled with samples of wedding invitations, announcement cards, wedding favors and all the hints and suggestions necessary for carrying out a June wedding in the most up-to-date and correct form.

The invitations are engraved in the newest Tiffany colonial-shaded script, which differs from that formerly used in that it is more graceful and, above all, far easier to read. The copper plates from which these invitations are engraved is furnished and made into an artistic card tray to be kept by the bride as a souvenir of her wedding. The favors are the dainty, imported, German figures—a miniature bride and groom, cupids with bows, or perched on the edge of a tiny slipper which may be filled with rice. Then there are snow-white doves—a pair perhaps perched on a golden heart or fluttering over a loving cup bearing a ring between them. There are also charming book containing samples of invitations, cards, announcements, stationery, etc., and also printed instructions and illustrations for carrying out in every detail the arrangement for a wedding according to the latest fad customs. Prospective brides may telephone said firm and a representative will call with such a book, showing samples and instructions.

Polish and Powder.
There is a certain nail polish now on the market that may be applied without the use of a buffer. It comes in tiny books of leaves, similar to the powder paper for the face. There is also a powder for cleaning hats which I am informed does most satisfactory work, removing last year's soiled straw like magic.

To Vote or Not to Vote.
I do not want to go to the primary with Henry, any more than I want to come to the mother's meeting with me," said a clever young woman, whose husband was in politics. The above is quoted from the current number of Harper's Bazaar, and the article further discusses this matter.

ter of the vote and equality by suggesting that if the vote means simply dropping a ballot into a box to register an opinion once or twice a year, that is one thing; and if a vote means the bearing of a responsible part in the government, that is quite another. The first supposition is an insane one. Men have not fought and died, tyrants have not been withstood, nations have not struggled, simply about putting a piece of paper, with one's opinion on it, into a square box. The ballot means democracy, and democracy means a share in government means personal responsibility and personal service. Men stand ready, behind their votes, for personal jury service, personal service in case of riot, personal service in case of war. Government, therefore, is man's work, and his vote is but the symbol of his service. Does woman want that vote? If so, is she willing to do that service? Is that part of her ideal of equality?

The anti-suffragist frankly answers "No." To grasp at the vote without any intention of rendering the necessary service seems to her unfair, and to get it on those terms would be to grasp its shadow, after all power would remain in the hands of the men. The ballot box, the jury box, the cartridge box, the entry box go together. And more goes with the vote than that. Any man knows that the single vote is not government; that there must be parties run by voters, officers by voters, reaching down through convention and primary to every voter. There must be registration, organization, caucus. If equality for women means the vote, then women belong to this governmental machinery and must step into it. The anti-suffragist believes that women have other and better functions in the community; that home and society are their realm, while the State is the realm of men. Equality of right does not mean identity of function. When there are so many varied things to be done, it is not equality, but interference for one sex to duplicate the other. Not duplication, but differentiation, is the ideal balance of the sexes in modern life.

About Accessories.
Stockings match every variety of shoe and all the more fashionable of the dress shades. The high-top director boot comes in all colors of suede and is fastened with pearl buttons. Dangles, tassels, fringes, etc., may be found in all the modish colors in metallic and jet effects. The quaint poke bonnet, silk hand-bags, scarfs and shawls, over-skirts and wraps, all to the past with precision. Colored foulards, with small black designs in place of white dots, etc., are seen in advance showings of the fabric. The cotton materials have been pushed somewhat into the background for the present by the new silks and serges.

White linens will be less worn than formerly, but gray, tan, khaki, and even the darkest shades are the desirable colors. Black has held a conspicuous place in the wardrobe of Madame Mode. As summer advances, gray or mauve takes its place. Foremost among bags is the bronze bag, which comes in leather, cloth, with the craze for bronze shoes and bronze belts. The new bag is round, and then made into soft, loose little curls that are just visible under the drooping hat brim.

The craze for metallic effects was in the height of fashion all winter, and it looks as though it would hold good all summer. One novel arrangement of the sleeve is to cover the stitching with a row of soutache braid, ending under a small, flat button. There seems to be little doubt that the new waves of pongee, also silk serge and foulard, will be the main fabrics of the summer.

OLD-FASHIONED.
CULL MAY DAY FUN FROM AFAR.
CUSTOMS AND DANCES OF MANY LANDS TO BE SEEN.

Playground Commission Lays Elaborate Plans for This Date. Hundreds of Little Ones Will Join in Ceremony of Crowning of Queen—Indian Dances.

If there is anything that the old-time English and other nations ever did on their May-day celebration, that has been left out of the programme arranged for the Los Angeles children today, Playground Superintendent Raitt does not know it, or upon investigation it has proved to be impractical here.

The playground commission is putting forth every effort to "do things up proud," in its effort to convince the people that at least one day in the busy 365 should belong to the children by right. Such a day as this will be celebrated here today. Hundreds of children will take part in the festivities. Representatives of every nationality in the city will be present, and drills and dances, such as are customary on fete days in their own countries will be given. A pretty feature of the fete will be the crowning of the Queen of May. She is Miss Elsie Priebe, one of the Recreation Center girls, and she was chosen as the May Queen by the vote of the playground children. The programme will commence at 2 p.m. The grand march will begin at the playground clubhouse. Here 200 girls, gowned in dainty white frocks, and dressed in garlands of daisies, will march to the music furnished by the Playground Brass Band. The procession will go to the big, improvised platform, on which the throne of the May Queen will stand. The Queen will have a special escort of eight little pages, and will be crowned by two little flower girls. The music will be furnished by the "London Bridge is Falling Down," "O, Sweet Beans and Barley Grow," "Ring a Ring," and other songs of old-fashioned children. Then the May-pole dances will begin. These dances around three great May poles will be beautiful. The kindergarten babies will give an exhibition of their games to the music given by the Drum and Bugle Corps of Recreation Center. The Greek games to be given by sixteen boys of the Normal Training School will be very interesting. Throwing the ball and the focus will be a feature. The boys will wear the Greek costume, and the victors of the several games will be crowned with laurels. The Los Angeles High School boys will appear in a body. Each performer has a distinct "stunt" of his own, but will join in the same act at the end. There will be relay races by boys and girls of the playground, and the Y.W.C.A. class will give an exhibition of playground games. The girls of San Pedro school will give a pretty exercise will be permitted to take up more than 15 minutes. All of the numbers of the night performance will be given on the big platform, which will be illuminated with four great arc lights. The programme will open with a fantastic Japanese drill, given by twenty-four young women of the playground. The rest of the evening performance will be given by representatives of different nationalities. There will be very n-level here. There will be a German peasant dance, a Russian national dance, a Scotch dance, an Irish jig, a Neapolitan dance, and the Indians of Eastlake Park will give the Navaho dance. During the numbers by each nation, the flag of that country will be displayed. The twenty-five volunteer playground workers, and the seven regular workers, all wearing white dress, will be in attendance at the celebration.

NEW MARTS FOR STRAWBERRIES.

EXPRESS COMPANY PLANS TO BROADEN FIELD.

Refrigerating Car Service Which Permits of Sending Southern California Fruits and Vegetables, in Less Than Carload Lots, to Various Points Proves Successful.

Wider markets and better prices for Southern California strawberries and vegetables will come from the new service of refrigerating cars which Wells, Fargo & Company have recently installed. The service has been in operation for several days and several shipments have been made from Los Angeles, but the company has withheld the announcement until the arrival of the consignments at the point of destination, in order to ascertain whether the system would work. The feature of the new service is that fruit and garden truck can be shipped in less than carload lots, and to any point in the regular refrigerating service. This adds largely to the field which the small shipper can reach. Advice received from Salt Lake City and other points, are that the new service has been successful. The new express coaches, mounted on Pullman trucks, but the interior is provided with a complete refrigerator plant. The service to Salt Lake City and points beyond was begun recently. Some of the new cars were sent to Seattle, Portland and Spokane about ten days ago, with berries and vegetables, but the company kept the experiment a secret until the result could be known.

"We have telegrams from Salt Lake City informing us that the shipments arrived in first-class condition," said E. H. Jones, assistant general agent, yesterday. "Heretofore, shippers could not take advantage of the use of refrigerating cars, unless they were loading their freight in carload lots. With the new service they can send small shipments, and these shipments need not be to terminal points either. "It takes a pretty big city to use up a carload of strawberries, for instance. With the new cars, the strawberry growers can send their berries to any of the desert points, as well as to Salt Lake. This service means a great deal to the people of Strawberry Park, and all the other growers of this section. We can ship this perishable freight in good condition to Salt Lake, Ogden, Portland, Seattle, Spokane, and all intermediate points. After the goods reach a terminal point, they only need to be fed again to keep in good condition while they are taken any distance further. "The result is to open a new market for the vegetable and strawberry growers of Southern California, for it places within their reach not only all the desert points where carload lots could not be broken, but even distant points that never could be reached by any other service, except in the carload lots that small shippers could not afford. "Of course, we can also ship in carload lots under the usual conditions when shippers wish to take a whole car. The cars will be run on the regular passenger trains, leaving Monday, Wednesday and Saturday for Salt Lake, Ogden and Butte, and daily for San Francisco, Oakland, Portland, Seattle and Spokane."

"Under these conditions, strawberries will bring the growers a better price. They have been producing more than could be consumed here, but the new markets given them will take care of all they can ship."

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE.
Public Urged to Refrain from Recreations That Will Impair Its Influence for Patriotism.

A general movement has been inaugurated by the first army posts of the Department of California and Nevada to secure a more serious observance of Memorial Day by the public. Pastors of the various churches are urged to impress upon the people the real purpose for which the day is set apart, and to discourage picnics and other recreations which are calculated to impair its influence for patriotism and high ideals.

As Memorial Day falls on Sunday this year, Department Commander Daubenspeck yesterday issued a general order to the posts directing its observance on Monday. Commanders are enjoined to see that all graves of the nation's defenders are decorated, the assistance of auxiliary and allied organizations is welcomed, and posts are urged to encourage school children to participate in the exercises. Flags will be placed at half mast until noon, Sunday. Webster Davis has been selected as Memorial Day orator by the posts of Los Angeles.

A campfire of three local posts is planned, but the date has not been set. The object is to bring all veterans in Los Angeles together and to increase the membership of the post. In addition to the appointment of H. E. Osborne of Los Angeles as assistant adjutant-general, the department commander has chosen the following staff: Medical director, S. A. Austin, Los Angeles; chaplain, G. W. Wilson, Pomona; department inspector, J. L. Hattery, San Bernardino; chief muster officer, H. H. Massey, Pasadena; senior aide-de-camp, George N. Lockwood, Los Angeles.

Have not coughed once all day?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. J. C. NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

WANT BABY ON THE DOORSTEP.

REQUEST ANNOYS THE PASADENA HUMANE SOCIETY.

Head of Orphan Department Declares That Infant Is Not for Such Flimsy Persons—Indian Chief Born—Y.M.C.A. Meet Today—Let Contract for Big Reservoir.

PASADENA, May 1.—"Adopting babies is no joke," said Mrs. Elizabeth Grinnell, who has charge of the orphan department of the Pasadena Humane Society, yesterday.

The announcement that this department has a pretty baby boy, 5 months old, to give away seems to have aroused the romanticism of many people, and we have been flooded with requests for the child. Two different persons have asked us to leave him on their doorstep. No, neither of them is the baby.

The Humane Society is not leaving babies on doorsteps and will take no part in any action that will lead to publicity and sensation, added Mrs. Grinnell.

The announcement that we have a baby to give away was merely a clerical error. As a matter of fact, we have a three-year-old girl, 5 months old, to give away. She was born on North Marengo avenue, and I am sure they will be taken care of and not subjected to the danger of being left on doorsteps.

Too many people are willing to offer babies to babies under impulse. They are appealed through romance and under its influence desire to find a baby on the doorstep, just as if the work had left it there.

The person for a baby is proof that at person is standing on heaven's doorstep and desires company to enter. There are more unmarried people who want to adopt children than married people.

Some people ask what the price of babies is. You would be surprised how many are ready to offer money for the little ones. We have more applications for babies than we can take, when we can financially afford it, we intend to have a carload shipped out from New York.

INDIAN CHIEF BORN. On the 28th of April an Indian chief was born at the Pasadena Hospital. He is named after his proud father, Richard Mayo of No. 45 South Pasadena avenue, who, his best friends assert, is the father of the now extinct Bernardino tribe of Indians.

Richard Mayo said: "This boy is a chief and may day he will be a big chief."
